in the Illinois River Watershed and discuss with particularity the facts, witnesses and/or documents leading to Your awareness.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO.3:

The State hereby incorporates its previous response and objections to this Interrogatory as if fully stated herein. In lieu of its previous Fed.R.Civ.P.33(d) designation for this Interrogatory, the State has identified certain representative documents as set forth below:

Watershed Restoration Action Strategy (WRAS) for the Illinois River/Barron Fork Watersheds, July 1, 1999, https://www.deq.state.ok.us/WQDnew/pubs/illinois_river_wras_final.pdf (“[i]t has been suspected since the early 1980’s that the Illinois River and Lake Tenkiller in northeastern Oklahoma were experiencing water quality degradation, primarily perceived as reduced clarity. Numerous studies verified that the lake and river were experiencing accelerating eutrophication from excessive nutrient loading caused by land use changes in the watershed.”)

The State will supplement its response to this Interrogatory as responsive information is identified.

INTERROGATORY NO. 5: Please describe all steps (including, but not limited to establishing water quality standards, negotiations and discussions with potential contributors, legal actions, threatened legal actions, administrative proceedings, threatened administrative proceedings, regulations or agency rule-making) You or the agencies of the State of Oklahoma have taken to address and/or “deal with” other sources of the Pollutants or Contaminants alleged in Your Complaint. See Transcript from March 23, 2006 hearing Pp. 8-10, and in particular P. 9 “That is not to say that there aren’t other sources of problems but the other sources of problems have been addressed and have been dealt with by agencies of government in the State of Oklahoma.”

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 5

The State hereby incorporates its previous response and objections to this Interrogatory as if fully stated herein. The State objects to this Interrogatory to the extent that it seeks attorney-client or work product protected material.

Subject to and without waiver of these objections, the State has implemented various statutory and regulatory programs intended to address impacts on all waters in the Illinois River Watershed. In fact, virtually all of the activities in the Illinois River Watershed by the Oklahoma Scenic Rivers Commission and the Oklahoma Department of Environmental Quality, and to a lesser extent the Oklahoma Conservation Commission, the Oklahoma Department of Agriculture, and the Oklahoma Water Resources Board, are directed at managing the impact of human activities on water quality. Examples include, but are not limited to, the following:

The State has entered into a Joint Statement of Principles and Actions with the State of Arkansas in order to reduce contributions from point sources, including poultry processing plants; regulates, in accordance with the Clean Water Act, discharges from Waste Water Treatment Plants in the Illinois River Watershed in Oklahoma (27A O.S. § 2-6-201 et. seq.); regulates the land application of biosolids in Oklahoma (OAC 252:606-9-1 et. seq.); regulates Animal Feeding Operations in Oklahoma (2 O.S. § 20 et. seq.); regulates pesticide applicators in Oklahoma (2 O.S. § 3-82); regulates Solid Waste disposal in Oklahoma (OAC 252:515 et. seq.); Regulates commercial fertilizer labeling requirements (2 O.S. § 8-21 et.seq.); established regulations for activities in Scenic Rivers (82 O.S. § 1461 et.seq); promulgates water quality standards for Scenic Rivers (O.A.C. 785:45 et. seq.); regulates surface mining in the Illinois River Watershed (O.A.C. 460:10 et. seq.); conducts sampling of water and soil in Illinois River Watershed; conducts assessments and modeling of the condition and quality of the Illinois River Watershed, and conducts various demonstration projects for the application of best management practices in the Illinois River Watershed.

The State's efforts have substantially been directed toward manmade impacts to the water quality of the Illinois River Watershed. To the extent that there are natural impacts, those are generally taken as background against which to measure the effect of human activities. The identity, effect and location of manmade factors, other than Defendants', that may have an adverse impact on water quality in the Illinois River Watershed to the extent discussed in publicly available reports are identified in the representative documents below.

In lieu of its previous Fed.R.Civ.P.33(d) designation for this interrogatory, the State has identified certain representative documents as set forth below.

1. Basin Wide Pollutant Inventory for the Illinois River Comprehensive Basin Management Program located at: (http://www.okcc.state.ok.us/WQ/WQ_reports/REPORT043.pdf).
2. Illinois River Watershed Implementation Program, FY 1996 319(h), Task 240, Best Management Practices Implemented on Peacheater Creek (OCC)
3. Joint Statement of Principles and Actions which were produced at multiple agencies.
4. Water Quality Monitoring Reports, Illinois River Basin, Arkansas-Oklahoma Compact Commission, (CY 2002-2006) which were produced at multiple agencies.
5. Biosolids Management in Oklahoma, Department of Environmental Quality Fact Sheet

The State will supplement its response to this Interrogatory as responsive information is identified.

INTERROGATORY NO. 6: For each step identified in response to Interrogatory No. 5, please state the reduction in each Pollutant or Contaminant that resulted.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO.6:

The State hereby incorporates its previous response and objections to this Interrogatory as if fully stated herein. Further, the State incorporates its response to Interrogatory No.5 as if fully stated herein. The State hereby withdraws its previous Rule 33(d) designation for this Interrogatory. The State will supplement its response to this Interrogatory as additional responsive information is identified.

INTERROGATORY NO. 7: Please describe the trophic state of each lake or reservoir within the Illinois River Watershed for each season of the year since 1952, and in doing so, state all evidence and identify all documents that relate to any such trophic state, and the cause(s) for any observed eutrophication.

Public Water Supply reports located on the SDWIS (Public Water Supply Reports) database are too numerous to list herein, however, the State refers you to the indexes given to you at the Oklahoma Department of Environmental Quality which list all the public water supplies in the Illinois River watershed. Furthermore, if you simply choose one of the four counties in the watershed on the SDWIS search page you can pull up all the public water supplies and see all their reporting and violation data.

The State will supplement this Interrogatory as additional responsive information is identified, except the State will disclose information known or opinions held by expert consultants retained or employed in anticipation of litigation or preparation for trial upon which it intends to rely pursuant to the Court's Scheduling Order (Dkt. #1075). The State and its experts are still collecting data and performing analysis on the data which will be used in their opinions and reports and the State reserves the rights to supplement its response.

INTERROGATORY NO. 13: Separately for each Cargill entity at issue, state with particularity the factual and legal basis for the allegation contained in ¶ 142 of Your Amended Complaint that any Cargill entity has “avoided the costs of properly managing and disposing of their poultry waste – not only to their enormous economic benefit and advantage, but also at great cost to the lands and waters compromising the IRW and at the expense of, and in violation of, the State of Oklahoma's rights” and identify every witness upon whom You will rely to establish each fact.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO.13:

The State hereby incorporates its previous response and objections to this Interrogatory as if fully stated herein. The State hereby withdraws its previous Rule 33(d) designation for this Interrogatory. The State will supplement this Interrogatory as responsive information is identified, except the State will disclose information known or opinions held by expert consultants retained or employed in anticipation of litigation or preparation for trial upon which it intends to rely pursuant to the Court's Scheduling Order (Dkt. #1075). The State and its experts are still collecting data and performing analysis on the data which will be used in their opinions and reports and the State reserves the rights to supplement its response.

INTERROGATORY NO. 15: Separately for each Cargill entity at issue, state completely and in detail the facts upon which you base the allegation in Your Amended Complaint ¶ 51 that any Cargill entity "has long known that the application of its poultry waste to lands within the IRW, in the amounts that it is applied and with the frequency that it is applied, far exceeds the capacity of the soils and vegetation to absorb those nutrients present in the poultry waste" and identify every witness upon whom You will rely to establish each fact.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO.15:

The State hereby incorporates its previous response and objections to this Interrogatory as if fully stated herein. The State hereby withdraws its previous Rule 33(d) designation for this Interrogatory. The State will supplement this Interrogatory as responsive information is identified, except the State will disclose information known or opinions held by expert consultants retained or employed in anticipation of litigation or preparation for trial upon which it intends to rely pursuant to the Court's Scheduling Order (Dkt. #1075). The State and its experts are still collecting data and performing analysis on the data which will be used in their opinions and reports and the State reserves the rights to supplement its response.

INTERROGATORY NO. 16: Separately for each Cargill entity at issue, state completely and in detail the facts upon which you base the allegation in Your Amended Complaint at ¶ 54 that any Cargill entity “arranged for its respective growers to take possession of the poultry waste coming from its birds...with full knowledge that the growers were annually placing hundreds of thousands of tons of their poultry waste directly on the ground and that these actions would lead to the run off and release of phosphorus and other hazardous substances, pollutants and contaminants into the lands and waters of the IRW” and identify every witness upon whom You will rely to establish each fact.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO.16:

The State hereby incorporates its previous response and objections to this Interrogatory as if fully stated herein. The State will supplement this Interrogatory as responsive information is identified. Wherever the center line of the Illinois River constitutes the boundary between lands dedicated and lands retained by the grantors, the center line of the main channel of the Illinois River is and shall remain at all times the actual boundary between the lands dedicated and the lands retained by the grantors. Should such center line change location, ownership of the lands shall change accordingly, irrespective of whether changes in the lands so bounded are brought about by accretion or by avulsion. The grantors reserve to themselves, their heirs, representatives, successors and assigns all mineral rights in said lands, including both oil, gas, coal and the like, and rights, and also rights with respect to "hardrock" minerals, together with the right of ingress and egress to prospect for and produce said minerals from said lands without any resulting claim for damage occurring to the grantee. It is the express purpose of this dedication that it is made for the combination of maintaining the hillside and the river bed visible from the Illinois River valley in its primitive state and providing a game refuge.

The conditions of this dedication are:

1. There shall be no improvements placed upon said lands dedicated of any sort other than fencing and such minor improvements as shall be deemed by the Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma needed for the proper management of the game refuge, or for temporary timber harvesting purposes permitted on portions of the lands as hereinafter set out. No such improvement of any sort shall extend above the skyline of the rim of hills lying south and east of the Illinois River so as to be visible from the valley of the Illinois River.

Wherever the center line of the Illinois River constitutes the boundary between lands dedicated and lands retained by the grantors, the center line of the main channel of the Illinois River is and shall remain at all times the actual boundary between the lands dedicated and the lands retained by the grantors. Should such center line change location, ownership of the lands shall change accordingly, irrespective of whether changes in the lands so bounded are brought about by accretion or by avulsion. The grantors reserve to themselves, their heirs, representatives, successors and assigns all mineral rights in said lands, including both oil, gas, coal and the like, and rights, and also rights with respect to "hardrock" minerals, together with the right of ingress and egress to prospect for and produce said minerals from said lands without any resulting claim for damage occurring to the grantee. It is the express purpose of this dedication that it is made for the combination of maintaining the hillside and the river bed visible from the Illinois River valley in its primitive state and providing a game refuge.
The conditions of this dedication are:

1. There shall be no improvements placed upon said lands dedicated of any sort other than fencing and such minor improvements as shall be deemed by the Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma needed for the proper management of the game refuge, or for temporary timber harvesting purposes permitted on portions of the lands as hereinafter set out. No such improvement of any sort shall extend above the skyline of the rim of hills lying south and east of the Illinois River so as to be visible from the valley of the Illinois River.

2. Portion of the lands dedicated lying between the center of the main channel of the Illinois River and the skyline of said hills shall at all times be left in its pristine state as nearly as possible as virgin forest. With respect to the lands lying to the south and east and the skyline of the hills, the Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma may permit the appropriate agency of the State of Oklahoma to engage in systematic timber farming and harvesting to such extent as will not interfere with the usefulness or desirability of said lands as a game refuge.

3. No vehicular access shall be granted to the public excepting along the extreme westerly edge of the dedicated property from State Highway No. 10 to the edge of the Illinois River at which point the Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma may, if it so desires, cause to be built a short access road to permit vehicles to go upon the property primarily to unload boats. The Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma shall make such provisions relative to pedestrians and equestrians upon said lands dedicated as it shall see fit.

4. The Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma may restrict hunting or fishing on said lands within reasonable limits, provided, however, dedicated lands shall not be permanently closed to fishing or hunting.

5. Fencing shall not be a condition of this dedication, although it is the express desire of the dedicators that the Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma fence the perimeter of the lands dedicated provided the lands shall never be fenced away from the riverbank of the Illinois River. Should the above stated conditions or any of them be broken, or if the property dedicated, or any part thereof, shall cease to be used for the primary purpose set forth, or shall be used for any other purpose, (except permissible timber farming), all right, title and interest in said lands shall revert to the dedicators, their heirs, representatives, successors and assigns, which reverter shall continue for the duration of the lives of the donors, their children now living, and their grandchildren now living, or any of them, 21 years thereafter, to have and to hold said described dedicated premises unto the grantee forever, free, clear and discharged of and from all claims of the dedicators, their heirs, representatives, successors and assigns, except pursuant to the reverter hereinabove set forth.

Signed and delivered this 31st day of July, 1963.

comprising a total of 565.5 acres, more or less.

Wherever the center line of the Illinois River constitutes the boundary between lands dedicated and lands retained by the grantors, the center line of the main channel of the Illinois River is and shall remain at all times the actual boundary between the lands dedicated and the lands retained by the grantors. Should such center line change location, ownership of the lands shall change accordingly, irrespective of whether changes in the lands so bounded are brought about by accretion or by avulsion. The grantors reserve to themselves, their heirs, representatives, successors and assigns all mineral rights in said lands, including both oil, gas, coal and the like, and rights, and also rights with respect to "hardrock" minerals, together with the right of ingress and egress to prospect for and produce said minerals from said lands without any resulting claim for damage occurring to the grantee. It is the express purpose of this dedication that it is made for the combination of maintaining the hillside and the river bed visible from the Illinois River valley in its primitive state and providing a game refuge.

The conditions of this dedication are:

1. There shall be no improvements placed upon said lands dedicated of any sort other than fencing and such minor improvements as shall be deemed by the Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma needed for the proper management of the game refuge, or for temporary timber harvesting purposes permitted on portions of the lands as hereinafter set out. No such improvement of any sort shall extend above the skyline of the rim of hills lying south and east of the Illinois River so as to be visible from the valley of the Illinois River.

2. Portion of the lands dedicated lying between the center of the main channel of the Illinois River and the skyline of said hills shall at all times be left in its pristine state as nearly as possible as virgin forest. With respect to the lands lying to the south and east and the skyline of the hills, the Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma may permit the appropriate agency of the State of Oklahoma to engage in systematic timber farming and harvesting to such extent as will not interfere with the usefulness or desirability of said lands as a game refuge.

3. No vehicular accrss shall be granted to the public excepting along the extreme westerly edge of the dedicated property from State Highway No. 10 to the edge of the Illinois River at which point the Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma may, if it so desires, cause to be built a short access road to permit vehicles to go upon the property primarily to unload boats. The Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma shall make such provisions relative to pedestrians and equestrians upon said lands dedicated as it shall see fit.

4. The Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma may restrict hunting or fishing on said lands within reasonable limits, provided, however, dedicated lands shall not be lpermanently closed to fishing or hunting.

5. Fencing shall not be a condition of this dedication, although it is the express desire of the dedicators that the Wild Life Conservation Department of the State of Oklahoma fence the perimeter of the lands dedicated provided the lands shall never be fenced away from the riverbank of the Illinois River. Should the above stated conditions or any of them be broken, or if the property dedicated, or any part thereof, shall cease to be used for the primary purpose set forth, or shall be used for any other purpose, (except permissible timber farming), all right, title and interest in said lands shall revert to the dedicators, their heirs, representatives, successors and assigns, which reverter shall continue for the duration of the lives of the donors, their children now living, and their grandchildren now living, or any of them, 21 years thereafter, to have and to hold said described dedicated premises unto the grantee forever, free, clear and discharged of and from all claims of the dedicators, their heirs, representatives, successors and assigns, except pursuant to the reverter hereinabove set forth.
